Myra: Settee and Wingchair

Presented during Salone del Mobile 2019 in Milan, the settee and wingchair are the latest entries in the Myra collection designed by Emilio Nanni as complement of the chair, stool, armchair, lounge and bench versions that are already in the catalogue.

The common thread of all these elements are the soft, inviting, and extremely contemporary forms that convey the idea of absolute comfort, making Myra a universal collection, that can furnish any type of residential and contract environment.

"Myra, the form which recalls a desire for protection and softness: an embracing roundness, combined with an essential comfort, represent the idea that characterises the entire collection. It is a complete offering, which conveys a sense of contemporary design that can offer a solution for every contract environment, while maintaining a perfect stylistic consistency through its aesthetic, functional and prestigious quality".

A seat with an especially contemporary volume layout, in harmony with the international taste that is attentive to design mood, Myra lends itself to instil its reassuring elegance to any environment. The vast products family collection and the wide color range of the fabrics allow to tailor Myra according to specific stylistic needs.

"A markedly lightweight, delicate form characterizes the Myra armchair. With its modern yet at the same time unobtrusive appearance, it is very well suited to different interiors."

With this motivation, in 2017 the jury of the Red Dot Award awarded the prize to Myra.

In 2018, confirming the high quality of design in terms of innovation, functionality and usefulness, Myra also obtained the "Special Mention" of German Design Award, in Furniture category.

The Myra collection includes: side chair, armchair, high and low stool, bench, lounge chair, and it is available in two different frame options, beech wood or steel.
